

Jamie Platz heads for Mexico clinic

Jamie Platz, the 10-year-old Blak Creek cancer victim left yesterday (Tuesday) for the Cydel Clinic in northern Mexico.

The Grade 3 student at Eldorado school in Drayton Valley will spend three weeks at the clinic, which offers treatment using vitamins and diet. In the last 8½ years Platz has undergone an unbelievable 88 operations.

The 10-year-old will be accompanied by his mom and dad during his stay in Mexico.

Pleas for financial assistance to make the trip possible have already totalled $11,127. Between $12,000 and $15,000 is needed for all the expenses plus a supply of vitamins that are not available in Canada.

Gail Platz was next to tears Monday as she explained everyone's concern.

"We're so grateful to everyone. It's been a very emotional experience," she remarked.

It's also been hectic for 10-year-old Jamie Platz. He's been the guest of Wayne Gretzky and the Edmonton Oilers and has appeared on radio and featured in many newspaper articles.

"It's taken a lot out of us. Jamie is worried, not knowing what awaits him in Mexico," Gail Platz stated.

Senior Games

Decision to come

A decision is expected within the week on the staging of the 1986 Alberta Senior Games in Drayton Valley.

The town, as hosts for the three-day event in July of '86, are asking the Alberta Sports Council for more money to host the event.

As hosts, Drayton Valley will receive a guaranteed $125,000. But they require an additional $90,000. This includes a second $25,000 legacy and $65,000 which is the difference in the food and accommodation bill between Drayton Valley and Camrose, previous hosts of the games.

The Alberta Sports Council is scheduled to meet tomorrow (Thursday) and Friday to discuss the Drayton Valley request.

Burning rubber

This Pontiac Formula 1, owned by Tim Urchysbyn, was going down Highway 22, north of Drayton Valley near the Rocky Rapids turn last week when the engine blew, spewing oil onto the catalytic converter. Firemen had the blaze under control within minutes, preventing an explosion.

Educational Consortium

Expansion planned for consortium

By Neil Speers

Expansion is the key word at the Pembina Educational Consortium in Drayton Valley.

Joe MacLellan, co-ordinator at the consortia, said one of three new programs is a Registered Nurses' Assistant program.

Soon, the consortia will be graduating qualified RNAs in Drayton Valley, with credentials which will be exactly the same as someone who had attended a university or college, said MacLellan.

Joe MacLellan

MacLellan added there is already a waiting list of more than 80 people for the RNA program, which is "unheard of" for the consortia.

The consortia is also adding a full-time academic upgrading program to the part-time program which it ran last year.

"I admire the courage" of some of the people who have not been to school for years, sometimes 20 to 30 years, and are coming to the consortia, commented MacLellan.

Another addition is a second year of business administration, explained MacLellan.

MacLellan stated there will be other programs and courses brought in as need is shown for them. There is a list in the office for people to come in and request specific courses, and if there is enough interest, there must be a minimum of 10 students to run a course, then the consortia will go ahead with it, he added.

MacLellan said the consortia is a sort of "anomaly" in the educational field because it is not a college, or department of a college or other institution, but uses college courses to enhance the area. Through Alberta Advanced Education, the five consortia around Alberta work with colleges and universities in Alberta.

One of the advantages of the consortia is it can bring in new programs the Drayton Valley area needs fairly quickly, said MacLellan, adding it still takes some time to institute a program.

He stressed the community is lucky to have the consortia as no more are being planned for Alberta, and it is the people taking the courses who are making it a success.

The consortia is so successful, the budget this year has gone up 100 per cent to a total of approximately $400,000, said MacLellan.

Last year, there were 738 course registrations, but because many people take more than one course, the actual number of students is a bit lower, explained MacLellan.

This year the goal is 1000 course registrations, he said.

Unger captures top award at 4-H show

Dagmar Unger, with the Spruce Valley club, captured the overall championship at the 4-H beef show and sale held on Monday.

The Reserve Champion went to Randy Herman, of the Lobstick club at the annual event held in the Drayton Valley arena.

In senior showmanship the winner was Susan Cox of Spruce Valley and second went to Dagmar Unger also of Spruce Valley.

In the junior showmanship the winner was Sherry Phannmuller of the Lobstick club with Lori Schwartz, from the Two River club taking second.

The best group of four calves went to the Tomahawk club. Spruce Valley took second while Lobstick grabbed third.

Tracey Phannmuller, of the Lobstick club, won both the grooming and two-year-old with calf classes.

The best yearling open heifer class went to Tomahawk's Arlene Norton.

The Best Calf by a first year member went to Stephanie Cartwright and the best rate of gain class went to Beate Unger.

Arlene Norton, of the Tomahawk club washes down her calf.

Brad Tweedie from the Lin-Berry-Buck club combs his calf in preparation for the show.

Super Sales

Eight-year-old Jocelyn Badry sold more than $100 worth of tickets for a raffle at the Shangri-La Lodge recently.

Emma Kelley won a beautiful quilt in a raffle in the draw made by Jocelyn.

A second prize cougar statue went to Stephanie Swap of Drayton Valley and a plaque to Jim Strickland of Violet Grove.

The money raised from the raffle went to the Lodge's social club.

Reviewing bids

Plans for old pool

The town is looking at creating a playground atmosphere in the old outdoor swimming pool tank.

Council is currently reviewing two bids that include filling the tank with sand and installing some sort of playground equipment.

The intent, according to town manager Manny Deol, is to create a family playground throughout the area. Deol would like to see all the buildings in the area painted the same color as the pool.

"Is that what we want in that area?" cautioned Councillor Bill Panice.

Acting mayor Charlie Miner had concerns over enough parking for the new indoor pool.

"Most times there is ample parking," Deol told Miner.

"To use the tank for parking would be expensive," Deol stated.

The problem of what to do with the area has been referred to the recreation board.

Pruden hooks fish

By Belle Cahoon

What a wonderful weekend we had. The fishing was good, especially for our manager, Joan Pruden, who caught a 17-pound jackfish.

Ivy Weiss was visiting from Wetaskiwin. Doreen Hausher's sister, Adaline Lifeso from Sherwood Park visited and we toured Drayton Valley.

Thelma Herndon and family had a family reunion over the long weekend. It was held in Hanes Hall and 54 out of a possible 63 attended, coming from all over the province.

Have you noticed the new awnings over our patio at the Fishing Well? We think they are great and sure help to cool our rec room.

Tankers

These fuel tanks were being installed at the new Turbo station by the Dodson Plaza last week. The tanks use a cathodic protection device which should make them last forever.

Oldtimers reunion

All present and former members of Buck Lake, Alder Flats and Winfield are invited to the old-timers' reunion at the Buck Lake Hall June 2 at 10 a.m. Lunch will be served by the sponsors, the Minnehik Ladies Friendly Circle. Camping space is available nearby.

Bowler wins third

By Edith Norquay

There were nine tables in play May 23 for whilst at the Drop-In Centre.

High for the ladies was Norma McDonald, low was a tie between Nina Moore and Frances Sims.

High for the mens was Harry Tweedie, low was Paul Peskinovity.

Cal and Jessie Bartlett have recently been to a rock and gem show near Millet.

Curtis and May Fagerfold have returned from a very enjoyable trip.

The Norquays have recently returned from a holiday. They spent five days in Prince George, B.C., with brother Fred and Louise Norquay and also visited Legion No. 43 there. They later travelled to Armstrong to visit with niece Daisy and Theo Ludwig, then back to Burnaby for a wedding rehearsal of Joan Ludwig and Peter Remeir. They also visited the B.C. Expo '86.

Congratulations to Ellen Stephenson of Breton who bowled in the provincials at Red Deer and came home with the bronze.

A bus load of bowlers travelled to Edmonton's Bonnie Doon Mall. A group of Bonnie Doon bowlers are thinking of coming to Drayton Valley June 6.

Opinions

Park needs washrooms

Town council has authorized a $3,000 feasibility study into the old outdoor swimming pool tank and buildings.

Because of the popularity of adjoining Rotary Park and the tennis courts, one of the buildings should be developed into male and female washrooms.

The situation now is almost as 'gross' as the Centennial Civic Arena without its washrooms and showers.

Park and tennis users could use the facilities in the Park Valley indoor swimming pool, but facilities off the park would be more practical.

The larger building on the grounds could be developed into a much-needed museum.

And council is playing with the idea of turning the old outdoor pool tank into a children's playground with sand and fun toys at an estimated $14,000.

Moving blues

Furniture was taken to the new offices last week as Amoco makes its big move. A crew of 25, including two drivers and two supervisors, did the move for the company to its new building west of town.

Selling pins is okay, but not brochures

What price do you put on promotion?

Town council is looking at charging for their new brochure and pins.

Pins, the medal type the town currently has in stock, could be sold to groups at cost. There could be another price for groups who stand to make a profit from their resale.

Plastic pins, if the town wanted to look at that, could be given out more freely.

To sell a town brochure, or any brochure promoting a town, is absurd.

Brochures, whether they are taken by visitors, tourists or business, shouldn't be sold.

If the town doesn't want to give away their present brochure they should develop a cheaper product. People expect to buy a pin, but selling a brochure, even for $1, makes our town look pretty cheap.

Raising money for good cause, causes good feelings

Jamie Platz brings back a lot of memories.

Two years ago, while employed at CKGY radio in Red Deer, I was president of the KG Cares Society.

The main function of KG Cares was to raise money through donations for needy individuals.

One year people responded to an appeal with more than $100,000 needed to send a Red Deer girl to a clinic in West Germany where the only treatment needed was necessary. On another occasion, close to $35,000 was raised through donations to send a little girl from Eckville to a hospital in Seattle. Many others also benefitted from KG Cares.

I found the work very rewarding, as I'm sure those who are working in the best interest of the Platz family will find their efforts.

If you live in the county and want information on town happenings, a copy of their summer program schedule is available in the bookracks at the County of Parkland office.

Editor's Notes

Weekend travellers coming back from the Brazeau Dam area were greeted by a County Police road check on the holiday Monday.

We support the idea of these roadside check stops, and everyone should be aware they will be spotted throughout the area all summer.

Minor baseball president Mickey McDowell is moving from the county to town. Look for this man to get involved in local sports.

The Evergreen Tourist Association has extended a promotional opportunity to the Drayton Valley Senior Games committee.

Tourist manager Doug Woodhouse will be at the Calgary Stampede and will have space to promote the '86 games.

But Woodhouse will have to wait pending a June 1 decision on whether or not Drayton Valley will even host the games.

With his bosses in town to examine the renovations, Black Gold Inn general manager Lance Grosco will have to put off his tennis playing.

An appeal a couple of weeks ago for someone to hit the courts with Grosco brought forth Century 21 Hi-Point Realty sales gal Natalie Gibson. As we understand it Gibson has bargained around her share of badminton birds.

It's Bernie and not Bernice in the recent Travel Alberta Good Housekeeping award given to the Schells at the Twin Pine Motel in Drayton Valley. Bernie has taken a lot of ribbing from his friends and customers over the misprint.

If dogcatcher, ops that should be animal control officer Danny Carruthers can't find any dogs, he might try a night patrol. Especially in the area of 44 and 45 Street around the H.W. Pickup Junior High School.

Martial Arts club wins Western championship

Drayton Valley is the home of champions, Western Canadian champions to be exact.

Ten members of the Drayton Valley Martial Arts club came home with the title recently.

The club, which competed against 35 others in a competition in Red Deer, won four gold medals in addition to capturing the team crown.

Dan Lyver took the gold in the heavyweight division, while Kelvin Sheeler took the lightweight group. Pat Mulgrew won his middleweight division and Sheldon Dunham took the middleweight non-contact title.

The club also returned with three silver medals and six bronze medals.

Dean Davidson, Pat Mulgrew, Dan Lyver, Dean Boulter and Kelvin Sheeler competed for the club in the team event and claimed the first place trophy.

The club is in its second year of operation and runs from September to May. They competed against about 500 other participants from Alberta, Saskatchewan, and British Columbia.

Bulk plant concerns on temporary hold

Bernie Schell, owner of the Twin Pine Motel in Drayton Valley is playing a 'waiting game' on the proposed Shell bulk plant.

Schell has expressed his concerns over Shell building a bulk plant across from his motel on the old Amoco site. The explosive aspect of such a plant in relationship to the safety of his patrons is what Schell is most concerned about.

He has talked with Town Councillor Tom McGee, but at press time still hadn't heard anything.

"My hands are tied until Shell comes in and starts digging up the site," the Twin Pine Motel owner remarked.

"Everyone seems to be holding tight and not saying anything," he added.

While town or Shell officials are not saying anything, most of the patrons at the Twin Pine see Schell's concern.

Don Dawson, owner of Keep It Clean truck and car wash in Poplar Ridge also shares Schell's concerns. The area around Keep It Clean is similar to the Twin Pine Motel, which is basically an 'explosive' area of trucks, chemicals and tanks.

Shell's plans called for shutting down their plant at Entwistle due to highway widening and relocating on the Amoco site.

Health unit could be last choice job

Dear Editor,

We, the nurses of the Alberta West Central Health Unit want to inform the taxpayers of some of the financial issues involved with the present health unit nurses' strike.

At this moment first-level nurses within the health unit are paid approximately $1 less per hour than hospital first-level nurses. This difference in wages leaves us very concerned about the community health nursing profession. The wage difference indicates to us that our government does not see that preventive health is equally as important as acute care and may serve only to turn health units into last-choice employers who can only afford to hire inexperienced staff.

Dr. Phillip Rutter, recent chairman of the Rural Health Association of Alberta stated that public health units will find it harder to attract nurses "and the effect will really be felt in about five years." He goes on to say that "this would be unfortunate because preventative medicine has brought about more advances than any branch of medicine."

We are asking to gain parity with hospital nurses which amounts to a minute fraction of the money being spent on hospital construction and renovation in 1985 in this province.

This strike is costing you money, as many previous home-care clients are now hospitalized. While on full home-care services the client costs you $30.42 per day and now that they are hospitalized it is $260 per day. (The amount may vary from hospital to hospital.)

Right at this moment we know of a terminally ill client who, with tears in his eyes, tells us he wants to spend his last days at home. Is it not more caring as well as cheaper to have patients stay in their own home if possible?

New county committee elects Booth

Bob Booth has been elected chairman of the Yes Group, Joint Committee of Western Ratepayers who are pushing for the creation of a new county.

Joining Booth on the executive is vice-chairman Dean Meraw and secretary-treasurer Betty McGee. The trio were elected at a general meeting last Wednesday night in Drayton Valley that was attended by 30 interested individuals.

Booth, administrative head of the Alberta West Central Health Unit in Drayton Valley and a former town councillor had met twice, in response to the provincial government's municipal feasibility study now underway. The study being conducted by the policy and research division of the Department of Municipal Affairs, will outline only the financial viability of a new municipality based on specific study areas and tax assessments.

Booth expects to see the report in mid-June.

"But, it will be a year before everything is done," he told last week's meeting.

"This is a unique opportunity to build a super county, if it's handled properly," Booth added.

Now that an executive is in place the real work starts. Contact will be made with the Municipal Affairs people who are doing the study, to see what help, if any, Booth and his group can be.

The Yes Group, Joint Committee of Western Ratepayers have already been told that a representative of the study team would meet with them to answer questions.

Booth will look to the Department of Municipal Affairs for the answers to the many questions he faced at last week's meeting.

People wanted to know how big the tax base would be to the advantages of a new county.

Booth admitted he didn't have all the answers, but he would get them.

"If we don't reach out and seize the opportunity we can only blame ourselves," Booth remarked.

Other attempts have been made to form a new county. Despite a 1,400-name petition, an earlier group saw their attempts shot down.

If a new county is realized it will be the first time in Alberta one has been formed from parts of other counties.

This will take the form of the Community League annual Sports Day. Many events are planned for the weekend including a dance on Friday night, a parade Saturday, ball tournaments, gymkhana professional show, community church service, as well as many children's events - games, pet show, midway, etc.

The Sports Day Committee would like to extend a special invitation to former residents of the New Sarepta area to return for this special 25th anniversary celebration.

Thank you for your co-operation in this matter.

Hire-A-Student

Parker's job is to find work

Heather Parker of the Hire-A-Student office in Drayton Valley is looking for post-secondary students right now.

She explained junior and senior high students are still in school, but added there are weekend jobs available.

Parker said she is keeping very busy with employer and school visits.

She describes her job as being the "screening person." She finds out what an employer needs in a worker, then finds out what a student can do for an employer and puts the two together.

However, she says there are no guarantees a job will be in the area a student wants because many of the available jobs are manual labor.

Parker can provide job search information to students such as how to write a resume and how to do well at an interview.

She also has information on the Alberta Wage Subsidy program where the government will partially pay the wages of a summer worker.

As well as summer jobs, she can arrange for odd job work such as lawn cutting and baby sitting, she explained.

The 19th Hole

by Lorne Christensen

The weekend of May 31 to June 2 will see 136 golfers chip their way around the Drayton Valley golf course in the Olmen's golf tourney.

Sixteen flights plus a championship flight will take to the course on the weekend with oil companies from all over Alberta being represented.

A new plaque on the wall at the Drayton Valley golf club honors golfers that sink a hole-in-one. So far only two names have been engraved. The lucky two are Les Bannerman and Brad Turnbull, both shot hole-in-ones in 1984 on the 204-meter second hole.

Congratulations to Wally Henes and Leila Hotte. They came away as winners in the recent golf tournament at Lindale. Henes, from Spruce Grove, captured the men's open title while Hotte, from Drayton Valley, was the women's winner.

Organizers said the tournament was very well attended and one golfer was overheard mentioning something about "golfing with a chainsaw."

Construction of the new 6,500 square foot golf cart building at Drayton Valley has started and the newly sodded tees should be ready for the Olmen's tourney this weekend.

Car meet planned

A car meet is being planned by the Drayton Valley Pro Street Auto Club tomorrow (Thursday) night at the Derrick Mall.

Buck Lake to host fish derby

The 16th annual Buck Mountain Fishing Derby will be held June 7, 8 and 9.

More than $2,400 in prizes will be up for grabs to the fishermen who snag the big ones from Buck Lake.

The event, which is sponsored by the Breton Fish and Game Association, is expected to attract between 1,000 and 1,200 fishermen.

The fishing kicks off at 7 a.m. on June 7 with the derby coming to a close at 6 p.m. on June 9.

Some of the prizes include an outboard mercury motor for the biggest pike and a sonic fish finder for the fisherman that snags the biggest walleye.

Prizes will be awarded to the top five weights in the pike, walleye, and perch events. In the Junior Perch event for under 16-year-old prizes will be awarded to the top four weights.

Two tied for lead

The Knights and the Denco Trees are tied atop the Evergreen Fastball league.

The Knights dumped the Buck Lake Smurfs 14-4 to extend their record to seven wins and one loss. The Denco Trees meanwhile beat the Wildcats 13-12, then edged Buck Lake 4-3 before knocking off Breton 4-2.

Penney's is sitting one game back after knocking off Breton 10-3 and then destroying the Wildcats 20-1.

Penney's also beat Lodgepole 7-3 and Sardine Lake 13-8.

In the only other game Lodgepole blanked Sardine Lake 7-0.

Entry fee for a single fisherman is $5 while a family can fish for $15.

In addition to the prizes in each category for the biggest fish a daily prize of $50 will be drawn for from all the entries.

Interested anglers can register at the government campsite on Buck Lake where the official weigh-ins will also take place.

New hockey age won't have big impact

By Lorne Christensen

The restructuring of the minor hockey age levels in Canada will have little effect locally according to the local minor hockey league president Garry Janzen.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association voted at their general meeting to change the age levels to keep more kids in hockey longer.

Under the new guidelines juvenile players will be 18 and 19, midgets 16 and 17, bantams 14 and 15, with pee wees 12 and 13. The remaining age categories mites 10 to 11 and mighty-mites 8 to 9.

The last change is the one that Janzen sees some problems in.

Janzen said some of the kids in Drayton Valley start at age six which means they will be playing against nine-year-olds under the new guidelines.

He said they will be looking into breaking up this four year age group.

Janzen added that he doesn't think the new classifications will mean much in the midget group because any really good midgets have already been scouted and are playing junior hockey.

Overall he was happy with the changes that will mean kids can stay in minor hockey longer.

The president of the Central Alberta Junior 'B' league, Dave Danks of Whitecourt, echoed similar conclusions about the new age limits.

Danks said he doesn't think the change will affect their league that much.

"Most of our towns don't have juvenile hockey anyway," Danks added about the change which will give players another year in midgets before going on.

"If a kid is good enough to play he'll want to play the best hockey possible," Danks said in pointing out the new age limits would not keep that many more kids in hockey.

But besides changing the age limits the CAHA also decided to put legal body-checking back into the pee wee program.

Minor hockey president Janzen thought this might be a good idea to show the kids the proper way of checking early.

Work needed at BMX track

Drayton Valley will soon have its own BMX track if someone would volunteer to move the dirt.

Volunteers are needed with backhoes or cats to move the dirt in Lions Park.

Once this is done organizers are planning a work bee to finish up the track.

The BMX track will be east of the new ball diamonds in Lions

Park.

If you can help get the dirt moved, call 542-5011 or Terry Yogi Abendroth at Drader at 542-3808.

New tennis courts

Drayton Valley will have two new tennis courts and the old ones will be refinished if everything goes as planned.

The town and members of the tennis club are hoping the new courts will be ready sometime this summer.

The new courts, on top of the water reservoir, will be paid for by the town at a cost of about $3,200.

Calvin Bennefield, facility manager for the town, said they are waiting for a price quote from a Calgary firm for the new courts.

Bennefield added that they will be putting a new finish on the old courts, by the pool.

A "pro finish" will be added to the old courts according to Eric Lloyd with the tennis club. Lloyd said the old courts will also get their lines repainted and possibly new nets.

Baseball openers

In the Oilfield baseball league three games were played last week.

The Easyford Colts doubled Breton 6-3.

Meanwhile the Drayton Valley Oilers knocked off Thorsby 14-5.

The Warburg Rams beat the D & S Drillers 8-5 in the other game in the Oilfield league.

Buckland makes mark on CARTSL with Ceasars

Nigel Buckland is certainly making his presence felt in the Central Alberta Rural Towns Soccer League.

The 19-year-old centre-forward who previously played with the University of Victoria booted two goals and set up another last Sunday as Ceasars of Drayton Valley downed visiting Mayerthorpe 4-2.

In their first game of the season Buckland had three assists in a 5-2 win over the Sundance Strikers.

After weekend play Ceasars, Spruce Grove and Edson share first place with identical 2-0 win/loss records.

Both Edson and Spruce Grove climbed into a share of first place with Ceasars on the strength of shut-out wins last weekend. Edson blanked Parkland 3-0 while Spruce Grove humiliated Hinton to the tune of 9-0. In other league games last Sunday, Whitecourt dumped the Strikers 8-1.

Tonight (Wednesday) Ceasars host Grand

Trunk High School of Evansburg in a 7 p.m. exhibition game at Lions Park and Sunday travel to Edson for their biggest test of the young season.

Peter Kelepouris and Andy Kelly had the other Ceasars' markers in the win over Mayerthorpe.

Ceasars led 1-0 at the half and made it 3-0 early in the second half before Mayerthorpe staged a comeback, getting their first goal on a penalty kick and the second on a header. Ceasars dominated the first half but the final 20 minutes of the contest belonged to the visitors who kept Ceasars' goalie Simon Kelly on his toes.

Buckland, who now has two goals and four assists in his first two league games, has some big boots to fill as the team has lost centre-forward Rod Bealer for six weeks. Bealer was one of the top marksmen in the league last year with 11 goals in 13 games.

In Ceasars' 5-2 win over Sundance, Bealer and Kelepouris had two-goal efforts. John Sharp had both goals for the Strikers.

Local athletes advanced to St. Albert zone meet

Local athletes' did very well in the Parkland Conference track meet held in Spruce Grove recently.

Six athletes from Frank Maddock High School advanced to the zone meet held yesterday (Tuesday) in St. Albert.

Jeff Thiel took first in the junior boys javelin with a throw of 42.31 meters and also captured a third in the shot put. Meanwhile Karl Vanderleest won the junior shot put event with a toss of 11.13 meters and took a third in the discus. The other first for Frank Maddock students came from Leanne Kwiatkowski with a 27.78-meter throw in the junior girls discus event.

Colin Reich took a second in the senior high jump event with a jump of 1.74 meters. Taff Bevans got a second in the intermediate 1500 meter race while Eddie Auger took a second in the senior 400 meter race.

Randy Mayer, Rod Poffearoth, Dave Mohr and Tim Allen captured second place in the junior 4 X 100 meter relay. Other winners included Dallas McLeod with a third in intermediate high jump and Doug Bacon with a third in junior high jump.

Stacey Hesselbarth took a third in the senior 1500 meter and Tom Tortier ran to a third place finish in the intermediate 800 meter. Frank Maddock High placed fifth overall in competing against 12 other schools. First and second place finishers advanced to the zone meet.

Two-price system looked at

The town of Drayton Valley is still looking at July 1 to implement a two-price system for County of Leduc swimmers at the Park Valley Pool.

Originally council wanted to implement the new fee structure on June 1, but delayed it one month when they heard their request for $10,000 could be forthcoming.

Now, town manager Manny Deol isn't so hopeful.

"We've had no official word on our request for $10,000. I'm not very hopeful," Deol remarked.

However, the town will receive a $35,000 MCR grant from the County of Leduc which will go towards capital costs of the swimming pool.

Park road is problem

Construction of the new Willey West campground on the banks of the North Saskatchewan River east of Drayton Valley is having access problems.

Bill Roos, who is developing the project, says most of the park is under the budget.

"Everything's going good down here except for the road."

He estimates an approximate $10,000 shortage in the road budget.

Problems have come up in the road because of either natural springs or water pockets under the road, said Roos.

He credits the advances made in the rest of the park to work done by inmates from Altnke Correctional Centre. They have donated about 2000 hours of work in the park.

"They're pretty good," said Roos commenting on the amount of work they did.

The park, however, probably will not open to the public until late this summer or, at the latest, next spring, said Roos.

A well has been drilled near where the cookhouse will be, though Roos added another well will be dug.

When finished, the park will have about 65 stalls for camping, as well as areas for groups to camp.

Deadlines for grant money

Parkland County has announced their grant deadlines.

Groups wishing to obtain funds through the community recreation and cultural program this year have to get their applications in before Wednesday, July 17.

And groups wishing to apply for funds next year must do so before Friday, Nov. 15 of this year.

Parkland County recreation director Barb Smith of Stony Plain and Ed Haykowski, west end co-ordinator for the County Parks and Recreation Department explained the grant application procedure to 20 people last week.

Application forms, along with a set of handy guidelines, are available from the Parkland County recreation office in Drayton Valley (542-4030).

Through the CRC program the county makes available $479,000, which is figured at $20 per capita. Half of that goes to municipality and the other half to community organizations.

Due to a number of project co-operation grants that were applied for last year, before the program fell through, the county has decided to honor those, leaving just $194,685 left in the community portion.

The Tomahawk school received funding through the old project co-operation structure for a skating rink and shack. The Keeppills school received funds for a video recorder and money was also awarded to the Entwistle school for playground equipment.

Both Smith and Haykowski encourage all interested groups to file their applications early.

"We can't tell you who's going to get the grant money," Haykowski told last week's grant workshop.

"But, there's lots of flexibility in this grant," he added.

"There's a lot of interest. People are looking for funds. Get those applications in early," Haykowski reminds all groups.

Census being taken

The official head count is underway in Drayton Valley.

Rhian Wenbourne, acting municipal secretary with the town reports that four people will be busy until the first part of June with the census taking. Their job, which was originally designed for three weeks, may take longer due to the number of call-backs.

Last year the town's population was 4,924 and administration is hopeful it will top the 5,000 mark this year. The town receives numerous grants based on their actual population.

Car rally is invitational

The Drayton Valley Kinsmen and their cars will rally to the call of adventure in June.

For members and invited guests, the event will be a combination of a cross-country car rally and a scavenger hunt, said Kinsmen president Terry Drader.

The idea, he said, is to find certain objects, answer questions about them, and come as close as possible to specified distance and time requirements to win. Points will be deducted for coming in too soon or too late, he stated.

The questions will be written in a sort of prose which the contestants have to interpret before they can find the objects, commented Drader.

Each car will have two to four contestants, he said, adding it is better to have four people to figure out what to do.

Drader explained the event usually ends with a barbecue at the finishing point. This will be the last event for the Kinsmen before next fall, he said.

The date is still being set, but Drader feels it will happen towards the end of June.

Beer gardens may be dry

The beer garden at this year's Evergreen Rodeo in Drayton Valley may have no beer.

Alex Salfi, spokesman for the Lions Club — which is hosting the bash, said the beer strike is disrupting their supply.

Salfi said arrangements made with Rocky Mountain Breweries in Red Deer, but because of the rush on supplies from that brewery, it may not be able to supply the event.

The ALCB could give a hard-liquor license should they not be able to resolve the beer strike before the rodeo.

ATTENTION ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF PARKLAND NO.31

The Council of the County of Parkland No.31 intends to construct six portable classrooms and one connecting corridor as follows:

- Four portable classrooms, cost $200,000 and a connecting corridor, cost $40,000 at Braxton Park School in Spruce Grove SD No. 450.
- Two portable classrooms, one at Graminia School in Graminia SD No. 1813 and one at Eldorado School in Drayton Valley SD No. 3138, each costing $52,000.

The actual division of costs between the School Foundation Program Fund and the Council will be determined within three years from the time of acceptance of tenders or other schemes of construction.

If you do not agree that the Council should borrow this amount, you may petition for a vote in accordance with the provision of The School Act.

The petition must be signed by at least:

- 2 percent of the electors in a district or division having 10,000 electors or more,
- 5 percent of the electors in a district or division having less than 10,000 but 5,000 electors or more, or

Bredin dominates dance competition

Shannon Bredin turned in an outstanding performance at the Drayton Valley open highland dancing competition last Saturday at the Rec Plex.

Competing against highland dancers from several Alberta centres, the Drayton Valley miss won six major awards.

She completely dominated the 12-years-and-under class by taking first place gold medals in sword, seann triubhas and village maid and added a second in the sailor's hornpipe. Her efforts resulted in taking the trophy for the class.

Bredin, who attended the Canadian championships last year, also won the trophy in the choreography solo and the dance off.

The host club also captured another gold when Rhonda Carpenter took first in the jilt competition in the 11-years-and-over class.

Carla Vogel of Drayton Valley captured the third place medal in the nine-and-under fling with club mate Carolyn Gusek placing fourth.

Deanne Jolly of Drayton Valley placed fourth in the beginners eight-and-under sword competition.

Looking for property

Masonic Lodge asked to vacate hall

For more than 20 years, the Drayton Valley Masonic Lodge has been meeting in the Scout Hall, but no more.

Financial problems have bothered the Scout Hall Association and to cure them, the association has been hosting bingos at the Elk's hall. The association also wants to sell Nevada tickets at the bingos, but to get a license to do that, they need their own place, explained association president Wayne Terry.

He said the only night which would not conflict with similar events in town is Thursday, which is the night the Masons meet.

The Girl Guides also meet Thursdays and have been meeting at other locations on nights when the Masons used the hall, but to keep from "kicking the guides out twice-a-month," Terry said they have asked the Masons to find new lodgings.

John Hansen, manager of the Royal Bank and a member of the Masons, said "we certainly appreciated" the use of the hall, but they understand the hall needs to make money.

Hansen stated the Masons are now looking for a new place to meet, but are not too worried over the matter.

Mormon missionaries come to town

Elder Ralph Hadley and Sister Dorothy Hadley

Two Mormon missionaries have come to Drayton Valley.

Elder Ralph Hadley and his wife, Sister Dorothy Hadley, came to town as part of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. They will be assisting around the local church for the next six months, they said.

The Hadleys are on an 18-month mission, which first took them to Chetwynd, B.C.

This is the third time the pair have been called upon by their profit to do missionary work for the church.

They explained how 18-year-old men are asked to go on two-year missions and 21-year-old women are asked to go on 18-month missions for the church. Both of the Hadleys had gone on that mission, then, after marrying, they did a mission out of their home.

Their current mission came after their children had grown up and moved out and financial responsibilities had been taken care of.

The Hadleys call Roy, Utah, their home, where they have a hobby farm. The farm is currently under the care of one of their sons.

Now retired and self-supporting, the Hadleys came to Canada to help out at churches and give assistance where they can. Mostly they work with members of the church, meet the public and explain about the church, answering questions about their religion.

There are about 30,000 missionaries, said the Hadleys, about 130 of which are in Alberta. The missions can take members of the church all over the world.

The missionaries take a three-week training course, or six weeks if a language has to be learned, before going out.

Branch plant managers

Students at Elementary B form roots in a tree planting program. One student from each of the three grades are assigned per tree. As students go on to Jr. High, there will be new Grade 4 students to take a place in the routine. The students plant and take care of the trees. It is hoped their interests will begin to branch out.

New director by mid-July

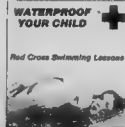

Drayton Valley is not expected to have a new recreation director before mid-July.

Town manager Manny Deol says more than a dozen applications have been received for the vacancy, created when council decided to fire Dennis Woolsey earlier this month.

Deol plans to make a short list from the applications, conduct interviews and select a new recreation director by mid-July or early August. Deol also confirms reports that Woolsey has filed a 'wrongful dismissal' charge against the town. It's now in the hands of the lawyers.

Rodeo competition

Get Western contest returns

Downtown Drayton Valley will once again be the scene of the Get Western competition during the Evergreen Rodeo.

Lance Gardiner, who is helping coordinate the rodeo, has been going around to various stores in town to get competitors.

The Treasury Branch

took first place last year in the contest, said Gardiner.

The judging should be on the same basis as last year, he commented, with senior citizens as the judges.

Gardiner is also helping with promotion for the rodeo and in organizing the parade.

"I'd like to see something happen downtown" such as bed races or other such contests, he said, adding he does not have time to set these up himself.

According to Gardiner, the band at the rodeo dance will be Western Star, who played last year and many people have said were very good entertainment.

Reporter spends shift with County police

The car behind us turned down a dead-end road as soon as we started to slow down.

County Police officer, Cst. Terry Pon was staring into the mirror and gave a quiet laugh when the car behind us disappeared.

Pon turned left on the next road and did a U-turn, then waited.

The car which had been behind us drove past within a few minutes and Pon careened after it. The lights came on and tires screeched as Pon took pursuit.

The car pulled over and one young man stepped out from the driver's side. A second later another man got out of the passenger side. Two young women sat inside the car.

Pon at sight of illegal race track on Cynthia highway.

Cst. Terry Pon setting up radar unit in patrol car for a night's cruising.

"Guess I wasn't as tricky as I thought," commented the driver of the car.

Inside the car, Pon found two empty beer bottles and one beer can.

Pon said there was foam in the bottom of the bottles and he could have charged them with a liquor offence, but there was just enough doubt in his mind he let them off. This time.

This is an account of a night on the road with County Police Constable Terry Pon as part of National Police Week.

Pon has been with the force for about five and a half years. Before coming to the county, he worked in a security job and trained with the Edmonton Police.

Even though the County Police do not have power to do criminal investigations, they keep busy just enforcing highway, alcohol, and related laws, and bylaws, Pon explained.

They also are "strong on traffic safety programs" with the children at local schools, he commented.

The county police also handle a lot of complaints, but added if they are criminal, the situation involves criminal actions, they will be referred to the RCMP.

"Most counties do not have their own police, and the RCMP can only do so much. Their first priority is criminal matters," said Pon.

Pon spends most of his time on duty cruising down the back roads of the county. "We hope to be a deterrent factor for would-be thieves," explained Pon.

One of their other major duties is to look for unsafe vehicles. Pon said one of his beefs is people who drive with only one headlight.

"I was nearly killed once because of a burnt-out headlight," he stated.

Other problems they look for includes overweight trucks.

"It takes a little bit of skill and an educated guess" to tell if a truck has more cargo than it is allowed to carry.

The county police have a portable truck weigh scale which they use to determine how much weight the truck is carrying and how much to fine the trucker if necessary.

Often when they find problems with a vehicle, they won't lay charges right there, but will issue a checkup slip. The vehicle has to be fixed up within a certain time or charges will be laid at a later date, Pon explained.

He pointed out how they and other agencies, such as the RCMP and other county police forces, will work with each other on these slips. A person can go to the nearest agency once the vehicle has been fixed and that agency will notify the original agency of the repairs.

Pon estimates about 50 per cent of the people issued with checkup slips do go back to have the vehicle inspected by the police.

Operating a speed radar is another of the county police activities. On the drive around the county, his radar would occasionally show a "target" speed, the speed of another car, to be the same or higher than the patrol car, but there were no other cars around.

Pon explained the beam of the radar would split up on hitting an object near the road and would fool the radar. This is how the infamous tree was clocked at 145 miles per hour. He said an experienced operator could tell when this happened because the reading would only last a few seconds. A true reading will remain longer, or will show the car slowing when the driver realized there is a police car in sight.

He said a lot of people, when they speed, say the speedometer is out, so one time when he got that excuse he mounted the radar in the guy's car and went for a ride with him. The radar the police use also measures the speed of the car it is in so it has a reliable speed to measure against, without relying on the car's speedometer which may be driving along in the guy's car, the radar said they were doing 120 kilometers per hour, but the car's speedometer only said 100 kilometers per hour.

Pon said from his experience, Chevrolet trucks from 1970 to 1975 are the worst for having faulty speedometers.

Stopping someone for speeding or other minor offence occasionally winds up with a larger offence, such as alcohol in the car.

One time he stopped a couple of hunters for speeding, and found four cans of beer in the back of the truck within reach of the sliding windows on the back of the cab.

As Pon got back in his car, the driver stepped out of his truck and removed a gun case from behind the seat. He then pulled out a shotgun. They stared at each other for about four or five seconds, which Pon said "felt like hours", then the driver put the gun back behind the seat and drove away.

Pon explained if he had shot the man and the gun was unloaded, then he would have been in serious trouble. But if he waited he may have been shot.

Pon later did a check through the RCMP and found out the man had a criminal record from Ontario and was considered dangerous.

Stopping drivers occasionally gets the police involved in high-speed chases, Pon said he had not had a chase in two years, then just a few weeks ago had two chases, a week apart.

These are just some of the hazards involved in the day-to-day routines of Constable Terry Pon and other members of the County Police.

Hawkowski is content at job

Ed Hawkowski really enjoys his job, one reason why he intends to stay here for a while.

Hawkowski is the West End Area Recreation Coordinator for the Parkland County.

The 33-year-old moved to Drayton Valley in November of 1984 and started working here in December after finding a place to live.

He describes his job as "insuring residents have access to recreational services, information grants and other programs in other areas."

People

As the recreation coordinator Hawkowski is responsible for helping area community associations with the requests.

He has set a goal for himself to visit each community association at least once, if not twice, a year. Because of this schedule Hawkowski travels a lot he says.

Hawkowski said his primary responsibility is to the county residents. But he adds that he sees "a lot of potential in this area, not only in Drayton Valley but in the surrounding area."

He pointed out that he does not do a lot of direct planning with the community associations but rather helps them find instructors, funding and then fill out the course request forms.

For the former Edmontonian, born in Lloydminster, the job is very enjoyable.

Ed Hawkowski

His other interests include "all sorts" of sports like squash, baseball and tennis. Hawkowski graduated from the four-year program in Recreation Administration at the University of Alberta.

Before coming to Drayton Valley he did volunteer work with various groups in Edmonton.

Hawkowski and his wife Joanne have two children, a girl 16-months-old and a boy two-years-old.

For now, Hawkowski plans to stay in Drayton Valley, he says he really enjoys his job and the area.

Farmers ask about grass

Sorghum, Sudan grass and related varieties are receiving some attention in our district this year. Several farmers have asked for information on this new grass in view of planting it this year.

The D.A.
Column

by Doug Walkey
542-5368

In order to have the warm soil temperatures needed, plant in mid to late June. At that rate grazing would probably start in mid to late August.

Because the plant needs so much heat it will not mature enough to set seed. Haying will be difficult because of high moisture content as well. Silage is preferred and could be taken just prior to heading in early September.

This is a high-risk crop for our area. It's probably more difficult to grow than corn and I suspect it would yield much less than a typical oat crop. Not recommended.

Fertilizer subsidy is another big topic. All the forms are available. Remember to bring your "paid" receipts.

Some farmers have reported a rise in fertilizer prices and feel it is out of line. For those who are interested I've posted a chart for average fertilizer prices from April 1980 to April 1985 in my office. It looks like a normal year-to-year trend to me.

If anyone has any information on abnormal fertilizer price increases, please let us know as soon as possible. Other fertilizer prices are now being monitored by the department's Agricultural Input Monitoring System.

Students involved in new tree program

Grade 5 and 6 students can gain hands-on tree planting experience through the 'Forever a Tree' project launched recently in conjunction with National Forest Week in Alberta.

The project involves landscape planning, site preparation and learning about trees and forests, as well as the actual planting itself. Schools must be prepared to accept a long-term commitment to provide proper care and maintenance of the trees which are provided by provincial government nurseries.

'Forever a Tree' is a four-year project. Applications are reviewed by the Alberta Forestry Association. For more information write the AFA at No. 311, 10626 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton or get in touch with me.

Application forms for the Alberta Farm Fuel Fertilizer Price Protection Plan are now available from Alberta Agriculture District offices. Payment will be $50 per tonne of actual nitrogen and $25 per tonne of actual phosphate. You should know that payments to farmers under this program will exceed the royalties received by the province on the natural gas used to manufacture fertilizer.

The Alberta Summer Farm Employment Program is underway for another summer. The deadline for applications for employment under the program is May 31, but the limit of 800 students will likely be reached before then, so if you are interested, get your application in now.

with Shirley Cripps

Applications for farmers who want to participate will be accepted on a first-come first-served basis, with priority being given to farmers who did not employ a summer student under the program last year. District Agricultural offices and Canada farm labor pool offices have application forms.

Sunday opening has again been highlighted by a recent court decision. I do have some concerns that the quality of family life could be affected by more parents having to work on weekends. With continued proliferation of Sunday opening, more and more families may be affected.

Recognition has to be given to the preference of some people who shop on Sunday — for various reasons and to the expectations of travellers and tourists to receive service, regardless of the day. We have always recognized the need for 365-day essential services.

Sunday openings are bound to create extra cost for business. Since the consumer purchasing power remains unchanged regardless of whether they buy in five, six or seven days — only the costs increase, not the total sales.

Recent Education graduates who have not been able to find jobs as teachers will welcome the news that the Initiation to Teaching Project announced in the Throne Speech, has been put into place.

The two-year program starts in September of this year and will give 900 beginning teachers the opportunity to find work in their chosen field. All those with a major stake in education in the province were consulted and have approved the project. I hope that recent Education graduates in the Drayton Valley constituency, who have not been able to find a teaching job will take advantage of this chance to get "your foot in the door."

While the legislature is sitting, I can be reached in my Edmonton office during the week at 427-1848 (toll free through Zenith 22333). My Drayton Valley constituency office is open Mondays and Wednesdays, the number there is 542-3855. My residence phone number is 682-3758.

Town and CUPE reach agreement

Union settlement

The town of Drayton Valley has reached a salary agreement with their workers, members of CUPE, for 1985-86. Details of the agreement were not made public when council made the announcement last Thursday.

Gambin to pay

Les Gambin will have to pay the $75 water meter rental required by the town. Gambin appeared before council April 25 to dispute the service charge. But council said last week he would have to pay, just like everyone else.

Untidy sites

The town is seeing some immediate results in its crackdown on untidy lots. Bylaw enforcement officer Dave Turner told council last week that he was seeing some favorable results from his inspections which started in April.

Light delayed

A request for a traffic light at 55B Avenue cul-de-sac at a cost of $1,750 has been referred to the '86 budget.

Water and sewer problems

Due to the sort of winter the town experienced, crews are faced with more water and sewer problems. That was the word from transportation committee chairman Howard Olsen last week.

Town manager Manny Deol added that the water pressure had been increased at the new reservoir and that may be having some effect on the lines.

Legion parking

The town plans to meet with the Legion over alternatives to the parking problems they encounter. The Legion appeared before council last month, stating they were unhappy that the two-hour parking was being enforced in front of the Legion. The alternatives were not made public when council met last week.

Pool work delayed

Because most of the rush appears to be over, town council has decided to table any plans to enlarge the lobby at the Park Valley indoor swimming pool.

Council also decided that spectators could wear their shoes into the viewing area.

Airport news

Beacon needed

The lack of a proper beacon at the Drayton Valley airport is causing some inconveniences.

In bad weather planes cannot land at the airport and usually re-route to Edmonton. That means additional transportation costs to reach Drayton Valley.

However, the town, who operates the airport, is looking at a cost of $50,000 for a good beacon.

Howard Olsen, chairman of the transportation committee told town council last Thursday "That's a little bit rich for our blood."

The town has held talks with government about acquiring a beacon, but at the present time Drayton Valley sits and waits.

Poet's Corner

OLD AGE IS HELL

Your body gets stiff,

You get cramps in you legs,

Corns on your feet

As large as hen's eggs,

Gas in your stomach,

Your elimination is poor,

You take Ex-Lax at night,

Then you're not sure,

You soak in a tub

Or your body will smell.

It's just like I said -- Old Age is hell.

Your teeth are decaying,

Your eyesight is poor,

Your hair starts falling out all over the floor.

Your sex life is shot,

It's a thing of the past,

Don't kid yourself, friend,

Even that doesn't last,

You can't go to parties,

You can't dance anymore,

Just putting it mildly

You're a hell of a bore.

Liquor is out, you can't take a chance,

Your bladder is weak,

You might wet your pants,

Nothing to plan, nothing to expect,

Just the mailman bringing your cheque,

Make sure your affairs are in order,

Your will's made out right,

Or on the way to the grave,

There'll be a hell of a fight.

So if at this time

You feel fairly well,

Thank God you're alive,

Though Old Age is hell!

Kindergarten registers

Twelve children were registered for the kindergarten program at Evansview School in Evansburg on May 16.

However a total of 20 are expected, said principal Keith Froland.

Parents were given an orientation to the kindergarten as well as information about a new educational project the school is undertaking.

"We're involved in developing a new Grade 1 program," he said.

Harvest thoughts

Preserving food easy with freezing

By Bev Brooks

District Home Economist

Even though you're probably just planting your gardens now, it is important to think about how you'll preserve the harvest this fall. Freezing, pickling, canning, drying, jams and jellies are all possibilities. When deciding which technique to use consider the time it takes, cost involved, storage needs, and, of course, your family preference. Over the next couple of months I'll be discussing the various preservation methods and their pros and cons.

FREEZING

Freezing is the quick, easy way to preserve food. It retains the color, flavor and texture of food well and most of the original food value is preserved. Food spoilage occurs with the growth of micro-organisms by enzyme activity. This micro-organism growth occurs rapidly at room temperature, but at frozen temperature (-18°C) it slows down to the point where growth is almost stopped. When the food is thawed these spoilage organisms start to grow again. For this reason it is important not to leave food at room temperature for very long.

Enzymes can cause off-flavors, browning or loss of color and loss of nutrients. They therefore, require more control. Enzymes can be controlled in vegetables by blanching and in fruits by adding sugar, lemon juice or ascorbic acid.

The equipment needed for freezing is simple. The most expensive item is, of course, the freezer. In addition to the initial cost of the appliance, you pay for the electricity to keep it working. A full freezer is cheapest to run, so don't buy one larger than you can keep fairly full. Keep in mind that power failings or accidental unpluggings can spoil your food in 48 hours.

Other equipment includes freezer bags, aluminum foil, freezer paper or plastic film, and a variety of freezer containers.

There are SEVEN EASY STEPS to successful freezing:

1. Select fresh foods of high quality to obtain a high-quality end product.
2. Prepare foods quickly and carefully. Follow instructions for cutting, blanching and packaging.
3. Pack in odorless, moisture-proof and vapor-proof freezer containers or wrappings.

4. Freeze foods at -18°C or lower as soon as possible after packaging.

5. Store foods at -18°C or lower with as little temperature fluctuation as possible.

6. Thaw foods carefully and use soon after thawing. Do not re-freeze.

7. Cook frozen foods according to directions.

For more information about freezing specific foods stop by my office, Alberta Agriculture in Drayton Valley or phone 542-5388. Ask for the publication "Freezing Foods".

Extra duties for staff

More responsibility has been heaped on the shoulders of Drayton Valley administrative staff.

The staff, currently operating without their regular municipal secretary or without a recreation director, were given extra duties last week.

Council decided that the payment of accounts would be decided by administration and not the councillors.

Council will only get a list of accounts that have been paid.

AGT flight

The AGT hot air balloon made a flight over Drayton Valley last Thursday night.

The two-man balloon lifted off in Meier's subdivision and came down in a farmer's field northwest of the town near the sanitary landfill site.

The hot air balloon, about seven stories high, is part of an AGT yellow pages promotional tour that is hitting several Alberta centres.

Bill Ramsay, Rick Demers and Chris Atkinson of Edmonton, who are doing the promotional job for AGT, planned to stay up a little longer but a sudden change in the wind forced them down without incident.
